A core part of our philosophy at ifm is that we work closely with our customers. We want to understand each customer's business and create solutions that work best for them. We also want our customers to grow. Which is why we are offering a new range of training seminars for our identification solutions range. As with our solutions, we will customise every training session according to an individual customer's needs and requests. Please see the inside of this booklet for more details of the training modules we have available.
